Connecting Women in Business

South Rodney

June 2008

Rustica told us. "if you don't like networking, how do you add people to your network without doing so? The answer is to work with others who love networking. Understand your own place in the network and share this information with them, have a common goal, become a part of each other's networks. You will have different energies and skills and be able to complement each other. Business Women of the Year Awards for 2008 are now open. Rodney Business Women If you know someone who will benefit from this award tell them about it. For the entry form email me lindamcilroy@xtra.co.nz

Next Meeting 3rd June 2008

"Staying Sane and focused as you climb your mountain!"

Katrina will share ten tips of a deliberate action plan that took her from destitution and trauma five years ago to launching her dream business in 2007.

A successful career in Sales, Marketing, Training and Advertising has earned Katrina many National and international Awards.

Her goal throughout her various roles has always been to have her work life fit around the commitments of raising her four children. Katrina has always had a heart for women, encouraging them in their endeavours. She has been involved in developing Women in business networks for 25 years. That passion has now been extended beyond the paid work force to encompass all women across all walks of life in her new venture.
